Auld Lang Syne – Piano tab

The rules

1. The white keys are notated with lowercase letters. That is, c d e f g a and b.

2. The octave in which you are to play the notes are indicated with a number written in the beginning of a line. If you play in more than one octave you will have more than one line.

3. If you are to play a black key it is indicated with an uppercase letter. The note C means the black key immediately to the right of c. In traditional sheet music notation this note is notated c#.

4. If you are to play two notes at the same time it is indicated by placing the notes at the same horizontal position, that is, above each other.

5. The hand to use to play the notes is shown at the left of the lines in the staff by the letters R.H. and L.H.

Auld Lang Syne

```
R.H. 5|---------------------------c-d--
R.H. 4|--c-f-e-f-a-g-f-g-a-g-f-f-a------
L.H. 3|-----------c-------------------
L.H. 2|----f----------------f-------A--

R.H. 5|--d-c--------------------------
R.H. 4|------a-a-f-g-f-g-a-g-f-d-d-c-f--
L.H. 3|-----------c-------------------
L.H. 2|----f----------------A-------f--

R.H. 5|--d-c-------------d-c-----c-d--
R.H. 4|------a-a-f-g-f-g-----a-a------
L.H. 3|-----------c-----------------
L.H. 2|----f--------------f-------A--

R.H. 5|--d-c--------------------------
R.H. 4|------a-a-f-g-f-g-a-g-f-d-d-c-f--
L.H. 3|-----------c-------------------
L.H. 2|----f----------------A-------f--
```

Download more free piano sheet music and piano tabs at:
http://www.capotastomusic.com